HEX TOKENS

1.  Cut out carefully with a sharp knife or scissors, using the | marks as guides
2.  Fold along the dotted lines, making sure the  hatched areas are hidden or face down
3.  Optionally, fix it with glue
